Louis XVI guillotined, 1783. Roscoe Conkling first elected senater, 1873. THE RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRA-

The congressional committee organized especially to inquire into the question of immigration and foreign contract labor, has made a report which is full of interest. The committee went to ail the larger cities and made a pretty thorough investigation into the character of the immigrants damped into those cities. The revelation was truly astonishing as it showed that quite a large percentage of immigrants that made those cities their sbiding place, were not only poor, but in many places criminals, vagabonds on general principles, idicts, and so on. In view of these facts the Ford committee recommends that a law be enacted which will prohibit the admission in to the Unnited States of any person who is an idiot, msane, a pauper, or liable to become a public charge; or who has been legally convicted of felony, other infamous crime or misdemeanor, involving moral turpitude; or who is a polygsmist, anarchist, or socialist; or who is efflicted with any loathsome disease, or who has entered into contract, express or implied, oral or written, to perform labor or service for any person, firm, company or corporation in the Unnted States, or doing busines here, or whose passage is paid on a promise of labor. The bill which the committee recommends makes it a misdemeanor for such objectionable persons to come to this country or for any person to assist them to do soand penalty not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment for three years is provided for in case of a violation of the law. Further provision is that the proposed law limits the carriage of incoming passenger vessels to one passenger for every five tors burden of the ship, excepting obildren under one year of age, and counting those between one and eight years of age as one passenger. Violation of the provision is made punishable by a fine not exceeding $500 for each passenger in excess of the allowance.

The report severely condemns the practice which has prevailed among certain foreigners resident in this country of importing men for the purpose of contracting them on railroad works and keeping them in a state of almost abject | that he won't. slavery. Reference is also made to the daily crossing of Canadian laborers, it being shown that about 800 Canadian carpenters daily labor in Detroit while the same number of Americans lie idle for lack of employment.

The concluding paragraph of the re-

Certainly the effect of the present unrestricted system of ammigration as applicable to the conditions under consideration upon the industrial situation of this country has been bad, and the committee believe that the time has come when the immigration tax should be more effectually regulated; that persons that immigrate to the United States should at least be composed of those who in good faith desire to become its citizens and are worthy to be such

There will be a minority report, but wa believe it will be signed but by one mem ber, Mr. Spinola, of New York, a democrat. It is largely the slum votes of the city that Mr. Spinola was elected to congress, and he doesn't like the restrictive measures regarding immigration that the committee recommends.

JUDGE TULEY'S DECISION.

The decision of Judge Tuley, of Chicago, is creating considerable discussion and a variety of views are taken of it. The Denver News concludes that "Judge Tuley's doctrine that the police can not interfere with the anarchists' meetings because they contemplate a violation of the law, if universally applied, would prohibit the arrest of vagrants and of a dispute over $28 owed by the latter. prowling burglars and thieves." This is the position taken regarding the decision by most of the Chicago papers, and the Journal says:

In Milwaukee they have such "free murder was the result of an old quarrel. speech" as Judge Tuley advocates for the anarchists. As a consequence there was recently "held at Charles Duchow's saloon" in that city a meeting to take action in regard to the establishment of aparchist schools in Milwaukee. It was decided immediately to begin the erection of a school building on the vacant lot at 2,022 Brown street, "a few feet distant from Duchow's saloon." The building will be 20 feet wide by 50 feet long and one story in height. The land on which it is to be built "belongs to Duchow." As in Chicago, the saloen appears to be an essential part of the Milwaukee anarchist movements. At this saloon meeting a report was read showing that the first Sunday school, held January 6, was attended by thirtyseven children, and the session held the 13th enrolled 13 more, making 50 pupils in all. The children admitted are between the ages of 5 and 15 years, and they are taugh socialism and anarchism into the dynamite form later on. There are many of these schools in Chicago, and their work, under the "halt" on the police called by Judge Tuley, moves briskly forward. But on the other hand, the New York Tribune assumes the responsibility of easing that "Judge Tuley's decision upholding the right of free speech in Chiof the community, is sound law and good jublic policy. It is better that ninetynice anarchists should be allowed to froth at the mouth than that one good citizen should be denied his rights as a free man." This is a strange contrast with the sentiment of other republican papers, but it is founded on the principle that ten guilty men had better escapthen one innocent man should suffer.

The son of the Rev. Dr. Howard York detective.

Crosby has introduced a bill with the following clause in the New York legislature: 'Every candidate for any pub-Ite office in this state, er in any county or municipality thereof, which office is to be filled by popular election, shall within ten days after such election file in the office of the secretary of state, an itemized statement of all moneys contributed or expended by him, and all debts itcurred by bim in aid of his election; and whenever any part of said moneys was paid or promised to be paid to any agent, committee, organization, person or persons, then said statement shall contain in detail a statement of the manner in which such moneys were expended or debts incurred by such agent, committee erganization, person, or persons" The penalty for violation is imprisonment tine, and a prohibition of the candidate's taking his seat or drawing his salary until the statement required by the bill 18 made. Of course the bill won't pass, and ought not to. But the New York Crosbys are queer people. The father i as queer in his temperance belief as the son is in election matters.

The conductors on the Santa Fe railway system have come to the front. The "collectors" on the railway have been relieved from duty, and will be no more used on the road. The road was suspicious of the conductors, and the collectors were put on two years ago and took the place of the conductors in taking tickets and fares. It was understood that the system was giving great satisfaction up to within the past three months, when there began to be rumors that the system would be abolished the first of the year. The officers of the road had frequently stated that the sysem was giving entire satisfaction, and first rumors were postively denied. Ihe collectors cost the Santa Fee about $90.-000 a year, and the company did not see wherein they were making gains on the receipts, so the collectors were abandoned. It is likely that the St. Paul company will soon take off the collectors

LIBUT. GOV. M'DONALD KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT.

Two Other Prominent Men Also Meet Their Death-Gov. Luce's Proclamation-Casualties.

IRON RIVER, Mich., Jan. 21.-Lieut.-Gov. McDonald of Michigan was killed in a railroad accident twelve miles from here Saturday. The east-bound train, consisting of engine, baggage and expree car, smoking car, and coach was derailed sixteen miles from Watersmeet. The rear coach was thrown from the track by the breaking of a journal, and after running on the ties for several hundred feet turned on its side, striking a stump whicht sood close to the track and which ripped the whole side of the car out, as if it had been made of paper. The engineer did not know of the cident until the coach turned over and broke the coupling.

When the train came to stop a shocking sight greeted the beholders. Three persons were killed and four severely wounded. Lieut.-Gov. James Hugh McDonald, Charles Davidson of Commonwealth, William Corcoran of Escanabia, and H. A. Tuttle of Cleveland were occupying a double seat. They were on a mine-inspecting trip, and were whiling the time away playing pedro. The stump first penetrated the side of the car at their seats. Tuttle was struck in the neck and was instantly killed. Mr. McDonald's arm was torn out of its socket, and was subsequently found fifty feet from his body. He lived an hour, but was unconscious all but five minutes of that time. Corcoran was badly bruised and his head was partly crushed in. He never knew

Mrs. Percy Reesor of Ashland, Wis., had her spine injured and may die. Mrs. W. McClure of Watersmeet was terribly cut about the upper part of her body and received internal injuries. Mrs. E. P. Foster of Iron Mountain had her head laid open and is not expected to recover. Conductor Armstrong had his leg broken and sustained severe injuries about his head. Aid reached the scene as soon as possible and the dead and wounded were cared The locality where the accident happened is sparsely settled. The dead were taken to Watersmeet and the wounded were sent on to their homes by special train, which last evening also took Lieut. Gov. McDonald and Mrs. Corcoran to their homes at Escanaba. The body of Mr. Tuttle will be sent to Cleveland. By the death of James Hugh McDonald Michigan loses a citizen who has always done her honor. In 1854 he removed to Ohio, where he remained three years, and then went to Wisconsin. In 1857 he was chopping wood in the latter State on the La Crosse and Milwaukee railroad at 50 cents a cord. In 1859 he went to Cuba as foreman of a railway construction force and four years employ of the Chicago & Northwestern railway in the capacity of a laborer. He worked his way up by meritorious endeavor, and in 1865 was employed to take charge of a construction department of the Mineral Range railway. He afterward returned to the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern, and later on was made roadmaster. In 1876 he resigned from the railway employ, became interested in mining matters, and the owner of what afterward proved to be a valuable mining property.

Mr. McDonald was an example of what hard work and persistent effort will do for the advancement of the humblest of American citizens. He was extremely popular in the Upper Peninsula and wherever he was known. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the Republican ticket in 1886 and re-elected last year. He leaves an estate estimated at $50,000 to his widow, son, and daughter. Mr. Tuttle was well known in Cleveland and the Lake Superior mining districts. He leaves a widow and one child. E. B. Foster, of Iron Mountain, is a prominent mining man whose operations extend over the Marquette, Menominee and Gogebic ranges.

For some time there has been a conflict between the officers of the Louisville, St. Louis & Texas road and the contractors who erected the company's new bridge over Green the bridge over to the company or to allow any trains to pass over it. The company then secured an injunction restraining them from interfering with the running the trains. This angered the conforce of men and went to work to tear up the ties and rails across the bridge. The throwing the bridge from its balance, it suddenly toppled over in the river. Twenty-five men were at work on the bridge, and they were all thrown into the water. Twelve were drowned or crushed and seven

FEATHERING THEIR NESTS. Sensational Charges of Embezzlement

Made Against Railrod Men. New York, Jan. 21.—An immense sensation has been created in railroad and social circles by the arrest of J. B. Cox and William Howell, both gentlemen occupying high official positions in the Pennsylvania Railroad company, on a charge of embezzlement. The latter until a day or two ago, was supervisor of division C of the railroad, and the former his assistant. For three years past steel rails and ties have disappeared very mysteriously, but with amazing regularity, from this division C, which extends from Deans to Trenton. Bits of iron and old ties were taken with the rails which had never been used. Finally, when the losses exceeded $10,000, Superintendent Crawford detailed a detective to work up the case. The officer went over the road to Trenton and there located his game. He procured a warrant from Justice Mills and at once arrested Cox on a charge of having embezzled $5,000 from the company. Cox had been hiring a man to go regularly to the side of the tracks with a truck, which was filled from the piles of rails. For three years no one ever asked the truckman any questions. A FIGHT WITH LYNCHERS. TEXAS SHERIFF ATTACKED BY A MOB.

An Old Man Lynched for Shooting His Wonld-be Sons-in-Law - The Criminal Record.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 21.—Sheriff Richardson of this county received a telephone message from Graham, in Young county, to the effect that while a deputy United States marshal with a posse of Graham citizens was escorting the four Marlow brothers, Buck Hart, and another man named Pierce to the Parker county jail at Weatherford, the prisoners being indicted for murder and eight cases of horse stealing, a mob of thirty citizens attempted to lynch them. The marshal and posse defended the prisoners, when a terrible fight took place. Two of the Marlow boys and four of the posse were killed at the first fire. The fight continued and another Marlow and Pierce were wounded and another of the citizens mortally hurt. Three prisoners, Pierce, Marlow, and Buck Hart, escaped, but all are said to be wounded. The fight took place two and a half miles from town. It is not known how many of the mob were hurt.

A large posse has been made up at Graham, and are in pursuit of the fugitives and the members of the mob. Sheriff Richardson has wired the sheriffs at Henrietta, Vernon, Wichita, Cisco, Abilene and Colorado City. Excitement at Graham is at fever heat. The fight took place at 10 o'clock Saturday night. It appears that this affair was a sequel to another that occurred Friday night. Boone Marlow, one of the four brothers mentioned above, all of whom were affected by the mentioned above, all left here this morning. Bickhart is still whom were of bad repute and accused Wallace of Young county Dec. 17 last while the latter was trying to arrest him. Marlow escaped, but his brothers were ar-

Later they broke jail but were captured, and Friday night a mob of about thirty men attacked the jail at Graham with the purpose of lynching them. The mob failed members of that body to "walk straight or purpose of lynching them. The mob failed in their object, however, and about 9 o'clock Saturday the prisoners, under a strong guard, were started for Weather-ford for safe keeping. It was while this party was en route that the same or another attacked them.

LYNCHED THE OLD MAN. An Inbuman Father Sent to Hi, Final

Judgment by a Mob. BALAR, Mo., Jan. 21 .- Henry Thomas, an old farmer, had four grown daughters, Hattie, Margaret, Nancy, and Jane, aged 16, 18, 20, and 23 years, respectively. Last Wednesday night Samuel and Charles Hasburn, brothers, procured a ladder, and helped Margaret and Jane out of a window of their father's house, and as they were about to elope with the girls the old man appeared on the scene, but too late to prevent their escape. He at once procured the best horse he had and started in hot pur suit. When about twelve miles from home he overtook the fleeing party. He immediately opened fire on them, killing both the boys and seriously wounding Margaret. After getting nearly home with the girls he was told that the other two, Hattie and Nancy, had also eloped with Ned Grason and Thomas Allison. He at once left the girls he had with him in charge of some neighbors and started after the others.

the others. After securing the other two girls without any serious trouble he started back, but when about two miles from home a mob took possession of him and strung him up to a tree. The old man was very strict with the girls. He would hardly let them get out of his sight. He always bragged that he would not be bothered with lazy sons-in-laws. Public feeling is strongly in favor of the lynching. Margaret died last night.

LYNCHED THE THREE.

An Old Mar, His Son, and His Daughter-in-Law Hanged. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 21.-At Tiptonrille, Tenn., a landing on the Mississippi iver about 150 miles north of here, some veeks ago a young man married the daughter of Mrs. J. F. Atcheson, a widow. The young man's father, learning that his son's mother-in-law possessed some $300 or $400, concocted the plan for him, his son, and the young wife to murder the old lady for the purpose of robbery. The plan was agreed to and the crime was committed. Neighbors heard of it, fixed the guilt upon the trio, and the latter hastily departed. A posse of indignant citizens followed, overtook, and hanged the entire party to the limb of a tree. Tiptonville is practically almost as remote as Shanghai, being without railroad or telegraph connection with the outside world. Shot Her Pursuing Husband. CHEYENNE, Wy., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Alice Bloodgood, wife of the foreman at the Hams Fork mine, near Evanston, eloped with Jack Cushing, a Pittsburg (Pa.) prizeighter. They started on horseback for he railroad, thirty miles off. Bloodgood pursued and caught them. Mrs. Blood-good shot her husband twice, killing him, and Cushing wounded two of his party. The elopers then got away and caught an Eastern train. A sheriff's posse stopped here to-day in pursuit of the couple. Cushing was the idol of the mining-camp, where he had been for some weeks. He claims to have whipped LaBlanche, and the miners were backing him in a challenge to any 160-pound man in the Territory.

Will Lynch the Fire-Bugs. NEW YORK, Jan. 21.-A band of fireougs that infest Rahway made a daring atempt Thursday night to burn the public school building on Franklin street. A quantity of inflammable material was found stored under a corner of the building, but the scoundrels were frightened off before they could put a match to it. Intense excitement prevails among the people over the discovery, and threats have been openly made that if any of the miscreants are caught they will be lynched. A meeting is to be held to form vigilance committees to protect the lives and property of

A Servant-Girl Murdered. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 21.-Mary J. Hale, a domestic employed by Myron Davis in Riga, this county, was murdered last night. Mr. and Mrs. Davis had been out, and on their return found her dead in bed, with an ugly gash in her forehead. Two little children of Mr. Davis were sleeping inharmed by her side. Chris Stickenberger, who had been employed by Davis, is missing, together with a small amount of money, a watch, and some jewelry. It is stealing and killed Ler to protect himself. Stickenberger is only 16 years old.

HOMEWARD." Loved Ones in the Better World an Inspiration to Us to Persevere in the Faith.

BROOKLYN. N. Y., Jan. 21.-The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage D. D., Sunday having The maidens of the village had emptied the expounded appropriate passages of scripture, gave out the hymn:

"Who are these in bright array, This innumberable throng Round the altar night and day Tuning their triumphant song?"

The subject of the sermon was "The March Homeward," and the text, I. Samuel, xxx., 3: "Pursue, for thou shalt surely overtake them and without fail recover all." The speaker said:

There is intense excitement in the village of Ziklag. David and his men are bidding good-by to their families, and are off for the wars. In that little village of Ziklag the defenseless ones will be safe until the warriors, flushed with victory, come home. But will the defenseless ones be safe? The soft arms of children are around the necks of the bronzed warriors until they shake themselves free and start, and handkerchiefs and flags are waved and kisses thrown until the armed men vanish beyond the hills. David and his men soon get through with their campaign and start homeward. Every night on their way home no sooner does the soldier put his head on his knapsack than in his dream he hears the welcome of his wife and the shout of the child. Oh, what long stories they will have to tell their families of how they dodged the battie-ax! and then will roll up their sleeve and show the halfhealed wound. With glad, quick step, they march on, David and his men, for they are marching home. Now they come up to the last hill which overlooks Ziklag, and they expect in a moment to see the dwelling places of their loved ones. They look, and as they look their cheeks turn pale and their lips quiver and their hand involuntarily comes down on the hilt of the sword. "Where is Ziklag? Where are our homes?" they cry. Alas! the curling smoke above the ruin tells the tragedy.

The Amalekites have come down and consumed the villages and carried the

The swarthy I remark, in the first place if you want to join your loved ones in glory you must warriors stand for a few moments transfixed with horror. Then their eyes glance travel the same way they went. No sooner had the half-dead Egyptian been resuscito each other, and they burst into uncontated than he pointed the way the captors trollable weeping; for when a strong warand the captives had gone, and David and rior weeps the grief is appalling. It seems his men followed after. So our Christian as if the emotion might tear him to pieces. friends have gone into another country, They "wept until they had no more power and if we want to reach their companionto weep." But soon their sorrow turns to ship we must take the same road. They rage, and David, swinging his sword high repented; we must repent. They prayed; in the air, cries: "Pursue, for thou shalt we must pray. They trusted in Christ; we must trust in Christ. They lived a religious overtake them and without fail recover all." Now the march becomes a "doublequick." Two hundred of David's men life; we must live a religous life. They were in some things like ourselves. I stop by the brook Besor, faint with fatigue and grief. They cannot go a step farther. know, now that they are gone, there is a halo around their names, but they had They are left there. But the other 400 their faults. They said and did things they men under David, with a sort of panther ought never to have said or done. They step, march on in sorrow and in rage. They find by the side of the road were sometimes rebellious, sometimes cast a half-dead Egyptian, and they re-suscitate him and compel him to tell the down. They were far from being perfect. So I suppose that when we have gone, some things in us that are now only tolerwhole story. He says: "Yonder they went, the captors and the captives," pointing in the direction. Forward, ye 400 brave men of fire. Very soon David and his enraged to make up for the deficits. Had it not been company came upon the Amalekitish host. for Jesus they would have all perished; but Yonder they see their own wives and children and mothers, and under Amalekitish the way," and they took it. guard. Here are the officers of the Amale-are full, the music aroused, the dance begins. The Amalekitish host cheer and cheer and cheer over their victory. But, without note of bugle or warning of trumpet, David and his 400 men burst upon the scene, suddenly as Robert Bruce hurled his Scotchmen upon the revelers at Bannockburn. David and his men look up, and one glance at their loved ones in captivity and under Amalekitish guard throws them into a very fury of determination, for you know how men will fight when they fight Taste and for their wives and children. Ah, there are lightnings in their eyes, and every finger Is a spear, and their voice is like the shout of the whirlwind. Amidst the upset tankards and the costly viands crushed underfoot, the wounded Amelekites lie (their blood mingling with their wine), shrieking for mercy. No sooner did David and his men win the victory than they throw their swords down into the dust-what do they want with swords now-and the broken families come together amidst a great shout of joy that makes the parting scene in Ziklag seem very insipid in the comparison. The rough old warrior has to use some persuasion before he can get his child to come to him now after so long an absence; but soon the little finger traces the familar wrinkle across the scarred face. And then the empty tankards are set up, and they are filled with the best wines from the hills, and David and his men, the husbands, the wives, the brothers, the sisters kitish army holding a banquet. The cups drink to the overthrow of the Amalekites and the rebuilding of Ziklag. So, O Lord, let thine enemies perish! Now they are coming home—David and his men and their families-a long procession. Men, women, and children loaded with jewels and robes, and with all kinds of trophies that the Amalekites had gathered up in years of conquest-everything now in the hands of David and his men. When they come by the brook Besor, the place where staid the men sick and incompetent to travel, the jewels and robes and all kinds of treasures are divided among the sick as well as among the well. Surely the lame and exhausted ought to have some of the treasures. Here is a robe for this pale-faced warrior. Here is a pillow for this dying man. Here is a handful of gold for this wasted trumpeter. I really think that these men who fainted by the brook of Besor may have endured as much as those men who went into battle. Some mean fellows objected to the sick ones having any of the spoils. The objectors said: "These men did not fight." David with a magnanimous heart replies: "As his part is that goeth down to the battle so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff." This subject is practically suggestive to me. Thank God! in these times a man can go off on a journey and be gone weeks and months and come back and see his house untouched of incendiary and have his family on the steps to greet him if by telegram he has foretold the moment of his coming. But there are Amalekitish disasters that sometimes come down upon one's home, making as devastating work as the the battle with ten fold courage and day when Ziklag took fire. There are families in my congregation whose homes have been broken up. No battering-ram smote in the door; no iconoclast crumbled the statues; no flames leaped amidst the curtains; but so far as all the joy and merriment that once belonged to that house is concerned the home has departed. Armed diseases came down upon the quietness of the scene-scarlet fevers, or plaurisies, or consumptions, or undefined disorders came and seized upon some members of that family and carried ekites or the Amalekites will slay David. them away. ECZEMA ON HANDS CURED. Two years and a half ago Salt Rheum broke out on my right hand. It appeared in white bliste s, attended by terrible itching, and grad ually spread until it covered the entire back of the hand. The disease next appeared on my left hand. I tried many remedies, but could find no core until I o tained the Cutrcura Remedies, which effected a speedy and permanent cure.

THE LAND OF THE MONTEZUMAS. Surely that is an illustration of business zeal with which Americans cannot hope to compete in the struggle for subsistance. Upon the streets of the city on pleasant evenings the people throng, and the scene is brilliant and even cosmopolitan. Here jostle each other with joyial or stolid demeanor but always in familiar confusion, the commercial sales man from New York with the red shirted ranchman of the plains; the sashed and gayly clad Spaniard with tasselled, wide brimmed lombrero, slong side the pig tailed representative of the yellow race and the long-haired, long-bodied Texan and the vile and ugly greaser native of the soil with the continental traveler of fashionable dress and cape-coat. The streets are electrically illuminated and on top of one white low building a very good band plays, while inside of many white buildings, wide-open doors wel come the stranger hospitably, to roulette, keno, and faro. Few women are seen on the streets in the evening. A petty smuggling scrape occurred to an acquaintance of mine at this place recently, which though not very enjoyable at the time, is now an amusing experience.

Young Mr. Query supplied himself at comparatively small outlay, in Paso del Norte, with cigars and cigarettes, stuffing his pockete, and then boarded the car going into the states. He wiehed to retain the box, so threw it back under his seat. The inspector entered, looked vidual who had a large bundle and told the latter to open it for examination. While stooping to reach the bottom of the stranger's bundle, the inspector's eye caught the small box under Query's seat. When business places had closed at night | Le understood that something was wrong. Returning he quietly said to Duery, I think you had better accompany me to the custem house. They may be pleased at your visit. The young man started as though struck, and the situation, not before seriously contempla'ed, flashed over him. There is no evasion. You may read the law. The penalty is fifty to five thousand dollars and imprisonment of length according to judicial determination." Query, head paused also. The paused. official looked serenely stern, "Should you have friends you may get bail in the vinced you intended no crime. Many prosecution. Under the law we must confisiente the goods. You can't import cigars in lots of less than three thousand. Of course we burn the clears," and Query over. The cigars were gone, and Query passed out grown older with the lapse of time.
